

BUSINESS IMMIGRATION LAW

BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS DIVISION

In an expanding global business atmosphere, our lawyers work closely with businesses on immigration matters to ensure proper compliance with domestic and international laws within the complex immigration system. We work with multi-national companies, organizations, and entrepreneurs filing business and family immigration visa petitions, including those for investor entrepreneurs, specialty occupation professionals, artists and entertainers, and executive transferees.

Our business immigration group partners with companies of all sizes to bring international talent to the U.S. and assists employers in navigating challenges such as:

- Employment-based temporary (nonimmigrant) and permanent (immigrant) visas for artists and entertainers, executives, managers, investors, professionals, aliens of extraordinary ability, and essential, specialized, and skilled workers (E, H, L, O and P visa petitions)
- H-1B labor condition application compliance
- Corporate strategy planning and training programs for global transfer of professional talent
- Supporting businesses and individuals in navigating the EB-5 Immigrant Investor Program
- Assisting employers with obtaining permanent residency for foreign workers and their families through the labor certification process
- Immigration-related due diligence for mergers and acquisitions
- Consular applications, naturalization and citizenship
- Family-based petitions for the family members of global executives and managers

Our attorneys also advise multinational companies within the interconnected global marketplace on matters involving business transactions, international law, and labor and employment. The firm's diverse clientele includes entrepreneurs, private businesses, publicly traded companies, and financial institutions engaged in international markets.

OUR INSIGHT

Effective navigation of immigration processes ensures businesses remain adaptable in an ever-changing globalized market.
