

ENVIRONMENTAL AND REGULATORY CHALLENGES

LITIGATION DIVISION

If you have an environmental issue, it's probably not a small, inconsequential matter. More likely, it's a time-sensitive, critical issue that needs quick thinking and resolution. Our lawyers are ready to navigate efficiently and effectively through regulatory waters on behalf of business and government clients and achieve results that strike a balance between economic needs, environmental protection and ethical business practices.

Our former environmental regulators and counsel for environmental agencies work with our seasoned litigators to put you in the best possible position at every stage of administrative negotiations, mediations and ultimately, litigation. We pride ourselves on being your trusted and forthright advisor. In the event a client is subject to an enforcement proceeding, our attorneys have significant experience in handling environmental regulatory compliance and enforcement matters arising from routine facility inspections, accidental releases, permit violations, tree removal, mangrove alteration and other violations of environmental laws and regulations. We have successfully negotiated numerous settlement agreements concerning corrective action and penalties for violations of environmental regulations and permits.

Regardless of the nature of your environmental challenges, our attorneys are well positioned to help you chart a course to a successful resolution.
