

BRYAN C. SIDDIQUE

ASSOCIATE

Ft. Lauderdale
(954) 763-4242
bsiddique@wsh-law.com

Bryan became well acquainted with the inner workings of the state and federal court systems while acting as law clerk to Judge Carole Y. Taylor at Florida's Fourth District Court of Appeal and United States Magistrate Judge Patrick M. Hunt at the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida. He uses this experience to the benefit of his litigation clients. During his time working for the courts, he assisted with complex civil and criminal cases, researching applicable law and drafting opinions and providing written recommendations to appellate panels, as well as proposed orders and reports and recommendations in the district court.

Bryan obtained his J.D. summa cum laude, graduating as valedictorian of his class at Nova Southeastern University, Shepard Broad College of Law. While there, he served as the Editor-in-Chief of the Nova Law Review and received the Student of the Year Award, as well as multiple CALI Book Awards,. He was also a Dean Scholar and Schlesinger Trial Advocacy Scholar. He was also an advocate for the NSU Trial Association and Moot Court Society, as well as a member of President's 64.

PRACTICE AREAS

- Litigation

ADMISSIONS

Florida, 2019

EDUCATION

Nova Southeastern University,
Shepard Broad College of Law,
J.D., summa cum laude

PRESS MENTIONS

- WSHC+B Adds Four New Litigators in South Florida, Attorney at Law Magazine, September 22, 2023

Nova Southeastern University,
B.A. in Finance

PUBLICATIONS

- “Tweets that Break the Law: How the President’s @realDonaldTrump Twitter Account Is a Public Forum and His Use of Twitter Violates the First Amendment and the President Records Act” Nova Law Review, Vol. 42 Issue #2, 2018