ajadoo@wsh-law.com

Amelia N. Jadoo is Of Counsel in the firm's Government Division and has 18 years of experience in business and government practice. She primarily advises and counsels government entities and organizations on a variety of issues relating to Sunshine laws, Public Records Act, ethics, code enforcement, contracts, land use, zoning, landlord/tenant, among others. Amelia also advises and represents private clients to resolve contract disputes, prepare demand letters, and engage in settlement negotiations. Amelia is an effective problem-solver who is passionate about approaching her client's needs in an ethical, efficient and collaborative manner. As a former litigator, she effectively counsels her clients to avoid and mitigate litigation risks and works closely with her clients to navigate emerging legal issues.

Prior to joining the firm, Amelia was Assistant County Attorney for Dakota County in Minnesota, where she advised the County and its various departments and public officials on a wide variety of legal issues related to data privacy, cybersecurity, corrections, employment, eminent domain/condemnation, collections, contracts, risk management, law enforcement, jails, firearms, juveniles, among others. Amelia served as Chair of the County Attorney's Office's diversity, inclusion, and equity committee, and served as a member of
