

Daily Business Review

Jamie Cole, managing director of the firm, was quoted in the Daily Business Review story titled “Florida’s Midsize Law Firms Seek Differentiation.”

“There are not that many firms that serve as the city attorney for 18 municipalities and also represent private clients. This gives us a unique perspective in the marketplace. We feel that this focus differentiates us from nearly every other law firm in South Florida.”

The story was accompanying the DBR’s annual Review 100 list and information on the top firms in South Florida.