

South Florida BUSINESS JOURNAL

November 18, 2011

COMMERCIAL ROUNDUP

Homestead baseball stadium gets new owner and name

La Ley Sports, a digital media company for fans, coaches, scouts and athletes, has paid $16 million for the Homestead Sports Complex.

La Ley had planned to lease the baseball stadium, and had a deal with the city to buy the 90-acre facility at any time. The company has renamed the facility La Ley Sports Complex at the City of Homestead.

Attorney Richard Weiss, founding member of Weiss Serota Helfman Pastoriza Cole & Boniske, P.L., represented the city in the transaction.